餐厅文化
RESTAURANT CULTURE

My name is Joanna. When I came to the UK in 2003 to study, I quickly realised that the "Chinese food" people knew here was nothing like the flavours, traditions and culture I grew up with. The China in people's minds was far from the real China I knew. From that moment, I carried a dream: to open an authentic Chinese restaurant that would share the true taste of home.

I've always believed that food and love are the same thing — and life proved it to me. I met Steven, my Mr Right, an English chef who shares the same passion for cooking. Was it fate or coincidence? I believe working in food was always my destiny.

Born in Shandong Province, I completed my first degree in China before moving to Wales as an exchange student. Later, I earned my Master's in Marketing & Strategy at Warwick University, where I met Steven. After graduation, I spent ten years in telecoms and then in the food industry, progressing from sales executive to head of sales — but I never let go of my dream of running my own business.

In 2018, our family moved to Reading to begin a new adventure: opening Kungfu Kitchen, a restaurant dedicated to authentic regional Chinese cuisine. Our menu brings together the bold heat of Sichuan, the comforting flavours of Shandong, the homestyle dishes of Dongbei, and the delicate tastes of Cantonese cooking. We are a 100% NUT-FREE restaurant, and we can meet all allergy requests. We are also No.1 in Reading for creating safe, delicious coeliac-friendly Chinese food — something we are truly proud of. Everyone deserves authenticity and top-quality service from a warm, family-run business, and that is exactly what Kungfu Kitchen stands for.

Time flies. Our wonderful customers have stayed with us through many ups and downs, and those years have passed in the blink of an eye. Throughout it all, we have insisted on cooking every dish with heart and serving every customer with love. As we move forward in our new location, we will continue to honour our passion for authentic Chinese food, always striving for even higher quality and even better service.
